Majorville News

(Our own correspondent)

Miss Ethel Plant has been visiting friends in the district quite recently.

Miss Maud Thomas is assistant post mistress and "halloo girl" at the Majorville post office.

Miss B. Larkin, representing the Canada Life Insurance Co., accompanied by a representative of that company, has been soliciting business for that company the past week. No automobile accidents as far as we know.

The implement collectors and other company collectors are around like a hungry pack of coyotes endeavoring to get a bite of the carcass. Oh, you benevolent and altogether kind farmer, you strata of the social fabric, how would the parasites exist without thee! How!

Seven or eight threshing outfits still continue to pour out the golden grain in the immediate vicinity. We gave a very moderate guess sometime ago that there would be 100,000 bushels of wheat right here. We find we were away below the mark, it is nearer 400,000. There are four farmers right here who will have about 100,000 bushels themselves, Harry Dietz is possibly leading the list with his prospective crop of 35,000 bushels and the price of grain at present is rather encouraging.

Mrs. E. J. Mills returned from Calgary on the 7th, where she had been visiting the past week. She was accompanied by her brother Ed., who will spend sometime in the vicinity.

Free wheat for the farmer is among the possibilities. What has the M. P.'s and prospective M. P.'s got to say about it? They who profess so much interest in the farmers at election times. The government may juggle the farmer on this point for a while, and some of them all the while, but they can't fool all the farmers for the whole route. No possible chance.

Several automobile parties were in the vicinity on the 7th inst. They were rather representative of the automobile industry. Mr. Bogstie and family with their Maxwell car and Messrs. Graham and McKie with their Fords. The latter gentlemen were accompanied with their lady friends Miss Howe and Miss Larkin.

Big Yields not Confined to Small Acreage

While many big reports on small acreage have been coming in from different parts of the Gleichen district is pleasing to note that some big reports are also heard from those with large acreage. When it was reported from the south early in the threshing season that a demonstration farm had yielded over 60 bushels of wheat to the acre on a piece of land lacking less than half an acre some real good farmers smiled, but when they themselves began separating their grain from the straw they smiled again to find that they reached the same figure and better in some cases and yet felt rather too modest to express it. Now, however, the truth is leaking out and as threshing proceeds some wonderful facts are disclosed.

May we select one from the many reports coming in. Now, be it remembered this is not given by the owner of the crop, but was just dropped in a casual conversation and the CALL happened to be close enough to catch it. It was just a few words:

"Mr. F. Corbell's crop yielded 17,000 bushels of wheat off 290 acres."

Mr. Corbell lives in the Ouelletteville colony, about thirteen miles northeast of Gleichen town and as the figures indicate this is better than 58 bushels to the acre.

Let the figures soak in. "17,000 bushels of wheat from 290 acres"

Think it over if you happen to live in the east or some other wheat growing country. Then remember that Mr. Corbell is not the only man in these parts who can claim the same.

It's great!
Who wouldn't be a farmer in these days.

Interesting Comment

Editor Call:—

In view of the latest outrage, by which the Germans have still further scandalized themselves, a reference to a past event may show that it may have been the one thing needed to rouse the British democracy to action.

The tearing of the scrap of paper into shreds, though leading to the quickening of the conscience of the rulers of Britain, did not appeal so powerfully to the masses; but the murder of this English nurse bids fair to be the spark that will set the heather on fire.

Nearly two centuries ago, the Spaniard, claiming the sole right of trading with the new world, allowed Britain the petty privilege of despatching thither, annually, a single ship of but 600 tons. Our democracy after bearing this affront for many years was at last roused to fury by the story of Jenkins' ear. Like Drake, Anson and many other daring sea captains, Jenkins plied his hazardous trade in the waters of the Spanish main, but being overhauled and his ship boarded, he was slashed over the head with a cutlass, which almost severed one of his ears. A Spanish captain ruthlessly tore off the bleeding member and flung it in his face with the insolent command to take it home and show it to his king and tell what he had done.

Well, that little shrunken bit of English flesh caught on and roused the smouldering wrath of the populace to such a pitch that would

341,009 BU. GRAIN RECEIVED

The receipts at the elevators for the past week was 21,062 short of the previous week. This may be accounted for in several ways. The weather has not been so favorable, as over half an inch of snow has fallen since Monday and no doubt the report of a shortage of cars has had an effect, and that the Farmers elevator was crowded for space.

The railway order book showed yesterday morning that there were 35 cars on the list and only two available at the time. Yet during the week 26 cars were shipped from here and one from Stobart, making a total for the season of 170 from here and eight from Stobart, or 178 billed from Gleichen.

For the week 32,057½ bushels of wheat, 10,005 of oats and 758 of barley have been received by the local elevators—totalling 42,810 bushels. Making a total thus far for the season of 341,009.

Threshing operations have been slow since Monday owing to the stormy weather and ceased work to wait for improved conditions.

A BASSANO COLONY FARM

This was the slogan of the Colorado farmers who settled on the Bassano Colony last year. If Money Talks, results speak. In the case of the Bassano Colony, they shout: Irrigate! Cultivate! Irrigate, and Success will crown your efforts.

Come to the Western Canada Irrigation Convention, Bassano Nov. 23, 24 and 25, and learn about the success of these farmers.

brook no denial till war was declared, contrary to the wishes of their rulers; Walpole telling them that though they might set the bells of St Paul's ringing they would soon be wringing their hands. But the people proved wiser than their rulers, for though started by such a trivial incident, it was a righteous war for on its result hung the whole question of the control of the destiny of the new world.

On this war too, hang some mighty issues; whether small states shall retain the power of self-government, and whether the British merchantmen shall retain the proud right to sail unmolested over the four seas, both possibly only through the complete overthrow of Kaiserism.

A BULL DOG.

Red Cross Notes

Please note that the local Red Cross room has been moved into the vacant store next to the new post office which has been kindly loaned to the society by our postmaster, B. Ramsbottom.

The response to the call for towels has been fairly good at our local Red Cross rooms, as however, this is a big district and more are promised it has been decided to keep the list open until next Saturday, November 13th. If you have not handed in your donation in towels or cash your contribution will be most welcome up to the above date. A list of all members to date, all donations in cash or towels given will be published in the CALL.

The average daily casualties to the British army for the past two months has been 2,200, so that the work of the British and Canadian Red Cross societies is increasing, more money, more material, more members, more members and more workers is the call. Remember that the casualties to our Canadian soldiers is nearly 20,000. Are you willing to help those of your countrymen who are lying wounded in the hospitals—wounds received in fighting "your" battles—for it is "yours" just as much as it is their own?

Don't be a slacker but do your share. The motto of the British empire is FIGHT OR PAY, which will you do?

We notice from the list of subscribers to date that the names are nearly all married men and women. What are our young unmarried men doing, that is those who have not, from one cause or another, gone to the front? The best they can do is to help with the Red Cross, a most patriotic work and to help liberally. Boys, think this over and open up your purse strings and open them wide!

O. P. Solberg was in from the south on Monday and stated that he was pleased to say that he had a good crop this year. Unfortunately the CALL man had only a few minutes talk with him, but he appeared well satisfied and we are pleased to report it so, for in years one by he has been rather unfor-

Relief Corps Meeting

President Mrs. Bartsch has called a meeting of the Gleichen Relief Corps for next Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock in the office rooms of the Pacific Cold Storage Co. and desires a full meeting of the ladies in order to decide upon the best manner in which to dispose of the funds still remaining in the treasury of the corps.

R. Mace was in town recently and stated that while he suffered from hail this season he has raised 10,000 bushels of wheat which ran from 32 to 35 bushels to the acre! He had in only a small acreage of oats, which yielded him 1,500 bushels or about 75 to the acre. He, however, has a big yield of potatoes.

For cutlery and Electro Plate razors, scissors, carving set, etc., we are the people—G.T.Co.

Red Cross Sewing Bee

Arrangements are made to hold a "Sewing Bee" at the Red Cross rooms in the post office block on Wednesday next, November 17th. Now, don't you fellows wish you could sew?—not wild oats, but sew something useful along with the ladies.

Well, anyway, there is a lot of sewing to be done, and the CALL has not learned that the men will be debarred, but, of course, the ladies old and young, great and small are invited to be present and without doubt there will be a real pleasant time for one and all. Now, don't be late—2.30 p.m. is the hour set and you will be kept busy.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1915

Too much care cannot be exercised at this time of the year to prevent fires. The prairie grass is dried out and a match or spark, carelessly dropped, might start a blaze which would sweep the country for miles. Gleichen district has been most fortunate so far this year in this respect, but some very disastrous fires have been reported from points in Alberta and Saskatchewan, and in every case the loss of property has been heavy. In one case a human life was lost.

A real newspaper must be something like the apostle had in mind when he said, "Be all things to all men". The reporter may not be personally a champion of card parties, baseball, dances or other amusements, yet they must be recorded; neither is he necessarily a church member because he mentions the good work of revivals, favors all reformers, advocates morality, prohibition and votes for the women, but prints all things of all kinds of news. Personal quarrels, scandals or ordinary drunks are not news, and ought not, as a rule, be scattered abroad as news.

The honor of commanding the top price on the Chicago market has again fallen to Alberta steers. The shipment was made from Macleod. Seventeen steers, averaging 1,420 pounds each, sold at $9.90, which was the top price paid for range cattle. Another bunch of 206 head of Alberta steers, averaging 1,240 pounds each, sold at $8.55 without a single throwout. This makes the third year in succession that Macleod cattle have been shipped to Chicago and have topped the market there. No other evidence need be offered of the suitability to the raising of best steers of the finest quality.

Within a year Alberta has changed from being an importer of potatoes to an exporter. It is not so long ago that potatoes were brought right across the continent to supply the Alberta market. This was not because potatoes could not be grown here, but because farmers were giving their attention so exclusively to grain raising that these profitable side-lines were neglected. But times are changing rapidly, and this year there is a potato crop in Alberta which for either quality or yield would be hard to beat anywhere. At the same time there happens to be a shortage of potatoes in Eastern Canada, and for perhaps the first time in history Alberta potatoes are now being shipped to Ontario, and it is said the demand will take care of all Alberta's surplus potatoes this season.

Immigration to America after the war is a question that is arousing much interest in the United States and Canada. Frederick C. Howe, commissioner of immigration at New York, a well-informed man in problems of this kind, declares that the results of the war seem to be a matter of sheer conjecture. It is alleged by some that European nations will prohibit emigration and make organized effort to keep their peoples. It is alleged by others that millions will flee from Europe. Mr. Howe consider each conjecture partly correct. Emigration from some countries will cease, and that from others be accelerated. The character and bulk of emigration will alter.
The war is modifying human nature. New necessities of society will create new governmental functions.

There can be no greater mistake that a business man can make than to be mean in his business. Everybody has heard the proverb of penny wise and pound foolish. A liberal expenditure in the way of business is always sure to be a capital investment. There are people in the world who are short-sighted enough to believe that their interest can be best promoted by grasping and clinging to all they can get, and never letting a cent slip through their fingers.
As a general thing, it will be found, other things being equal, that he who is most liberal is most successful in business. Of course, we do not mean it to be inferred that a man should be prodigal in his expenditures; but that he should show his customers, if he is a trader, or those with whom he may be doing any kind of business with, that in his business transactions, as well as social relations, he acknowledges the everlasting fact that there can be no permanent prosperity or good feeling in a community where benefits are not reciprocal.

Buy an Irrigated Farm From The CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY BECAUSE:

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.
Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures best returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement, with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the year 1914 having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices ranging from $35 to $75 per acre, with twenty years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000.00 for improvements (5% interest) no principal payment at end of first or second years and no water rental for first year. Assurances is also given in supplying stock in approved instances.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. Get full particulars from

RATES OF WAGES

Stratford, Ontario, and English Manno facturing Centre Compared

In April, 1914, before the war was upon us, and the high cost of living claimed our attention, Mr. M. B. Murphy, the member for North Perth, in which the city of Stratford is located, made a speech in the course of the budget debate, in which he gave some interesting figures bearing on the average wages in the trades throughout England and in his native city.

Dealing with this subject, Mr. Murphy said: "The first point that I am going to touch upon is what is known as the high cost of living, and in connection with that I desire to compare the cost of living of the Canadian workmen with the cost of living of the British workmen, the cost of living under what is known as a protective tariff in Canada as compared with the cost of living under a free trade or free food fiscal policy. That is fair and germane to the subject at issue."

"I have taken the trouble to secure some figures in relation to the subject just mentioned. I have taken the rates of wages of various trades common in the city of Stratford, in the county of North Perth, which I have the honor to represent, and the rates in the same trades in the City of London, or rather throughout England, using average wages. The figures in both cases I have had prepared for me by the Department of Labor of this Government, and I accept them as accurate. So far as the Canadian figures are concerned, I know that they are under rather than over-stated. Let us see in what position the workmen in cheap-food England stands in regard to what pay he gets compared with the same kind of man in the Dominion of Canada under a protective policy:

Rates per hour, 1913	Eng. Stratford
Building Trades: Cillies, Gals.
Bricklayers	16-20c 40c
Masons	16-19c 40c

"I could go over the whole range of industrial life, and show that the artisan in the Dominion of Canada, under the present policy, is getting a substantial wage which will enable him to live well and put something aside, while the wages paid in Great Britain to the same class of artisans are sweat-shop wages unworthy to be paid to any laboring man who wishes to live decently. Hon. gentlemen opposite desire to bring us to the same position as Great Britain is in as to the cheap-food plan. In Western Ontario, the mechanic, who is a thinking man, has the idea that he likes good wages and steady work. His argument is very terse, when some of these advocates of free trade or reciprocity come to him. He says: 'I want work and continuous work, at good wages; I am an industrious man, and, in getting work with good wages, it makes no difference to me whether bread costs three cents or seven cents a loaf, as long as I am well paid for my work, I will live according to my pocket, but I cannot pay one cent a loaf for bread if I am out of work and have no wages.' I invite hon. gentlemen opposite to come to Western Ontario and talk free food to some of our artisans. They will find that they are in the wrong stall and that there is nothing doing about that line."

A FINE IN FLY PAPER

One of the most bare-faced impostures in the sale of goods ever perpetrated on unsuspecting customers has been brought to our attention by a man who went out the other day to buy an ordinary fly paper. He came out with a little cardboard box all brayed round with an attractive and highly-colored "Made-in-Canada" label. But by accident or design the label came loose, and underneath he read the very different slogan "Made-in-Germany." Without the label so one could miss noting the fact that it was a German-made article, and one can get away from the fact that the Made-in-Canada label was deliberately pasted on the box to cover up the real site of the seller. The man who sold these retail informs us that the labels were on the boxes when he purchased them, and that since he has discovered the imposture he has refused to sell any more. The retailer must come along with the name of the people from whom he purchased so that the fraud may be traced to its source and the perpetrators exposed.—Exchange.
